Homework (1)

1. There is at least one photo of the people in "History of optimization" which is incorrect (not accounting for the ages and poses). Find them, provide your correct photos and give justifications.

2. The no-free-lunch (NFL) theorem is actually quite general. Give more instances that the NFL theorem applies.

Rethink whether to take this course if your math is not good enough